Microsoft OS Transition

Microsoft is ending the sale of Windows XP on October 22, 2010 (but still plans to provide support for Windows XP until April 2014). Therefore, OEM's will not be able to ship XP preloaded systems after this date. To prepare for this transition, Lenovo has closed order windows to new orders of Topseller models at the end of September. Lenovo will be able to ship XP preloaded systems via special bid only per Microsoft guidelines.
